ACT 3: THE BONE FIELDS

Fourth Ullir, Faolan, 1384 of the Ascendant

By the grace of the One God, we lay down our lives for those we are sworn to protect.

Avian Dale,
High Seat of the Council, Grand Master of the Dawn

I pray for thee to accept this knight of House Carney, child of Gore Thrain Carney and heir to the estate of Beringal Hall. In brief, as of my previous missive, I pass the bearer of this document on to thee for apprenticeship, in accordance with the third agreement of the Lexicon Acadmius and by binding vote of the Stone Cast.

I impart our everlasting gratitude for your generous support of the academy and keen interest in the welfare of the young knights. Of this distinguished graduate, decorated with the Star of Valour and the Knight's Rose, I have no hesitation in their recommendation. They doth honour the legacy of the grandfather, Godfrey Raith Carney, paladin of the Seventh Circle and veteran of the fifth holy crusade. I am proud to be blessed with this charge, to pass on a faithful student who hath every intention of rewarding you with many years dutiful service.

I beseech your Grandness does not take offence that I cannot meet with thee at Titebury. I appeal for your forgiveness in this matter, as my attentions are duly directed to the capital in troubled times.

By the grace of the One God, may our good friendship prosper by the future deeds of this venerable knight and apprentice.

The Holy Light seal my words.

Malon Tulane
Master of Arms, King's Academy.
